

GIFFORD PINCHOT GETTING IMPATIENT

Declares Congress Cannot Fairly Avoid
Responsibility of Ruling on Reports
Of Ballinger-Pinchot Commission.

Washington, Dec. 14.—"Congress cannot now fairly avoid responsibility of ruling on the reports of the committee," declared former Forester Gifford Pinchot today in discussing the recent report of the majority of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee.

Mr. Pinchot said that from the beginning it was known what the report would be and the "stand-pat majority" did only what was expected of them.

"Interest now centers in the question of what action Congress is going to take on the report," continued Mr. Pinchot. "When a court appoints a master to take testimony, find facts and make recommendations, the court is bound to consider the master's report and make a final decision. In this case Congress is the court and it cannot fairly avoid responsibility of ruling on the committee's reports."

He said the public was entitled to know which of the three reports Congress approves.

"Certainly the stand-patters in Congress, who believe in the Ballinger kind of conservation, should have a chance to go on record to that effect," he continued. "The question whether Mr. Ballinger is an unfaithful public servant is of little consequence compared to saving the coal lands in Alaska and the water power rights for the people."

"If these are saved, the men against whom the majority of the investigating committee have decided will win no matter what the majority may say. If the resources are lost to the people, these men will lose, too. That is what the fight is about."

A SIMPLE SAFEGUARD FOR MOTHERS.

Mrs. D. Gilkerson, 375 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. — Schramm-Johnson Drug Co."

SERIES OF COLLISIONS IN SEATTLE HARBOR

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 14.—One life was lost and the sound steamer Kitsap and the launch Columbia were sunk as a result of a series of collisions in the Seattle harbor late today, involving the Columbia, the Kitsap and the steel steamship Indianapolis. The man who lost his life was Andrew P. Vanden, a passenger on the Columbia. None of the 30 passengers on the Kitsap was injured.

The accidents are attributed to the heavy fog which has hung over the entire Puget sound country for two days and was responsible for a collision on the Puget Sound Electric railway near Auburn last night.

The first accident in the harbor today occurred just as the Kitsap, with

Secretary of Navy's Official Map Showing Guantanamo and Defense of Panama.

The secretary of the navy, George von L. Meyer, has prepared an official map showing the importance, in his opinion, of establishing a naval station at Guantanamo. The defense of the Panama canal is a subject of the greatest importance to the present administration, and President Taft has declared the public must be awakened to the fact that a canal without proper fortification and naval bases will be no canal at all. The map as prepared by the secretary of the navy has been submitted to congress, and that body is due to spend many hours trying to find better locations for naval bases.

30 passengers and 10 men in her crew, left her berth.

The fog was so thick that objects could not be distinguished a boat's length away. Before the Kitsap could be stopped the Columbia, which suddenly appeared, was run down.

UNPICTURESQUE ADVERTISING

Pres. Taft Expresses Hope Some Way To Get Rid of It Will Be Found.

Washington, Dec. 14.—A letter from President Taft was read today before the American Civic association, in convention here, expressing regret at his inability to be present, but advancing the hope that some way might be found of "getting rid of the disgusting unpicturesque advertisements which mar almost every rural view."

"It would be a great thing, if accomplished," wrote the president. "I do not know whether the civic association has ever talked about or thought about a remedy."

Part of the afternoon session was devoted to an exposition of the part women have played in the movement for civic betterment.

GOVERNMENT ATTACK ON ELECTRICAL TRUST

It Will Begin Before Jan. 1, and the Fight Is Expected to Be Bitter
In the Extreme.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The government's attack on the electrical trust will begin before Jan. 1, unless present plans are changed. A bill in equity against one section of the combine will be filed in some United States court east of the Mississippi river.

Then will begin what the department of justice considers the mammoth "trust-busting" suit of its history. The government case will depend largely upon the interpretation of the patent laws.

One of the government's prosecutors declares that when the action is instituted it will be recognized as far eclipsing the Standard Oil case in magnitude and importance, and one conservative estimate is that it will cost the government no less than $1,000,000 to prosecute.

Atty. Gen. Wickersham has been unwilling to involve the government in that expense without the fullest investigation of the government's chances of proving what it will allege.

The investigation is not completed but it has disclosed an object of attack of such proportions that the department has abandoned any idea of tackling the combine as a whole, and intends to fight the so-called trust in sections.

The bill soon to be filed will be against one of the 18 or 20 divisions of the alleged combine. This will be followed by actions against the others as fast as investigations are completed.
